

Po Leung Kuk Yip Ng Bun Bun Queen's Hill Kindergarten

In order to pass on the broad and profound Chinese culture, our school organized different in-school and out-of-school activities to enable children to learn to respect and appreciate Chinese traditional culture.

Our school curriculum is immersed with elements of Chinese culture. For example, K3 children learn and master traditional Chinese handicraft skills through drawing activities such as paper-cutting, tie-dyeing, ink painting and other graphic activities. They can also learn about traditional foods in the process of making rice balls.

tie-dyeing

Paper-cutting

Ink painting

making rice ball

Cantonese opera is an intangible cultural heritage of Hong Kong. K3 children participated in the "Comprehensive Guide to Cantonese Opera" activity. In addition to watching expert performance and demonstration of basic skills, they also had the experience of trying on costumes.

Festival activities in For whole school students

Every year, teachers teach children the origin and characteristics of traditional Chinese festival and design interesting festival activities. During the Mid-Autumn Festival, we played lanterns with children. During the Lunar New Year, we held a Chinese New Year celebration, allowing children to learn about New Year customs and culture through games at different booths. During the Dragon Boat Festival, we ate rice dumplings with children. Through various activities, children learn about traditional Chinese festivals and feel the festive atmosphere.

