23-24 School-based learning activities
on Chinese culture

During Mid-Autumn Festival activities, children engage in diverse celebrations such as solving riddles on lantern, lantern viewing, eating mooncake, and lantern making. These activities enable them to learn about and appreciate the traditions and cultural values associated with the Mid-Autumn Festival.

To enhance children's understanding of their country and Chinese culture, foster a sense of national identity, and promote cultural heritage, schools incorporate interactive and game elements into our teaching and learning.
